This Week

This week KS2 have planned and started to write their persuasive advert trying to include features such as alliteration and exaggeration. KS1 have planned and started writing a recount. In music, the children have been practising playing their compositions on the glockenspiels. Next week we will try and play them with the song! Everyone has continued to practise their handwriting and this week's focus was on the 'window cleaner' family - l, i, t and u. Reception has started phonics and learning about 0 in maths and the story of Little Red Riding Hood in Drawing Club.

Year 3/4 have created a website in computing. Have a look: <https://sites.google.com/acornacademy.org/our-favourite-animals/home>

Updates

KS2 children will bring home an up-to-date heat map showing the times table facts on TTRS they know and ones they still need to practise. Please focus on any oranges and reds in the 10, 2 and 5 section first followed by the 3,4, and 8 section.

It is the National Year of Reading this Year. Please continue supporting your child by hearing them read at home. Any reading can be recorded in the reading record.
